"God in my Veins"

About Dinah Rau Art

Based in the Pacific Northwest, Dinah Rau Art began in Feb of 2016, when along with others, I was invited to use paint and canvas as a form of worship during a church conference.

What started as a one night event quickly became two years of delving into learning how to worship through visual art.

Prior to this experience, my work mainly consisted of realism, but in a moment the Holy Spirit transformed my art. I now paint from a spiritual perspective, with the intent to hear from Heaven through the use of movement and color.

Prophetic Art

Prophetic art is sharing what God has put on an individual's heart through artistic expression. It is an act of worship which may start as a color, a word, a dream, or even a Scripture, transforming into a visual representation of what is on God's heart for His people.
